How to Protect Your Child from Identity Theft

Identity thieves don't just target adults; children can be victims, too. In 2017, more than 1 million kids were victims of identity theft or fraud.

To check if your child may have been a target, file a child-identity inquiry with each of the three main credit reporting agencies (Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion).

If your child has fraudulent information on their credit report, you'll need to verify their status as a minor by providing a birth certificate or other form of identification. Ask each of the reporting agencies to remove all accounts and collection notices from any file associated with your child's name. You can also report the identity theft to the Federal Trade Commission (ftc.gov/complaint).

Spend Money to Save Money

Enroll today and build your savings automatically with our Debit Card Roundup program!

1. Spend like you normally would. Use your debit card for everyday purchases at stores, drive-thrus, etc.
2. We'll round up your daily purchases to the nearest dollar amount and transfer the change from your checking account to an account of your choice.
3. Roundups are accumulated and transferred daily, so you can watch your savings grow.

All you need to get started is a checking account with a debit card and a savings account. To sign up, stop by your favorite branch to make everyday purchases part of your savings plan!
